Why clean your IT equipment?

Improved image to the public, visitors and your employees

How often do you lean on a reception counter to be confronted by filthy computer equipment? What image does this portray of the business? Does the staff like using dirty keyboards? Our process returns all equipment to virtually brand new condition.

Greater reliability of equipment

Fact: 82% of computer breakdowns originate from dirt or overheating problems, our preventative maintenance service can significantly reduce these breakdowns thus reducing downtime and saving money on expensive call outs.

Improved safety with reduced potential for fire

When did you last look at the cooling fans on your IT equipment? An overheating machine could cause a fire. We will remove the build-up of this fluff and dust and reduce this risk.

Reduction in staff cross-infections

Are your staff frequently off sick? The cause could well be cross-contamination of phones and keyboards. Recent research in the US has shown that telephones are one of the worst offenders of cross contamination of bacteria between people. The bacteria's includes Serratia rubidea Shigella and E. coli. All of which can affect us in unpleasant ways. We offer a regular telephone and computer cleaning service to help combat these problems. After staff, your computer system is almost certainly the next most important asset - Cleaning your system safeguards and protects them and the equipment.
